Creating an Information Technology Security Awareness Culture in Your Business

On January 28, 2020, The Bridgeton Area Chamber of Commerce held its first luncheon meeting of the year at Terrigno's Fairfield Inn. Jon Cummings and Revive South Jersey sponsored the event that featured speaker Tammy Oliva of Cumberland Mutual. Tammy Oliva is the company's Information Security Administrator and she discussed cyber security and the importance of creating a culture of awareness at your organization to reduce the threat of cyber attacks.

Oliva explained how easy it has become for hackers to steal data and commit fraud. A simple click on an encrypted email can cause chaos and be a huge inconvenience to a business.

She discussed simple ways to detect a virus within an email as well as ways to prevent hackers from hacking into your business information. Security Awareness culture should be taken seriously. Tammy Oliva could not emphasize enough how important it is to secure your company's data.

She explained that there are classes that your employees can take part in to become more conscious of red flags that can prevent a database from being acquired. She gave the example of what Cumberland Mutual does. Oliva sends out a "test virus email" that calculates exactly how many employees clicked on the click bait that could have very well encrypted, damaged or stolen the company's data.

Ask any security professional and they will tell you that the weakest link in the security chain is the human who accepts a person or scenario at face value.

Tammy Oliva provided a well-organized, informative power point presentation that is available to our members. Call the Chamber office at 856-455-1312 or send email to bacc@baccnj.com to request the document.

Career Fair & Business
EXPO

For Businesses & Consumers

Wednesday, April 1, 2020, 4-7pm

CCTEC 400 College Drive, Vineland, NJ

Postponed
Until Fall 2020
Due to Coronavirus Precautions

The Bridgeton Area Chamber of Commerce in partnership with the Greater Millville Chamber of Commerce presents the Cumberland County Expo and Job Fair for businesses and the public.

Due to the growing concerns and precautions regarding spread of the Coronavirus it WILL NOT BE HELD on Wednesday, April 1.

Cumberland County's largest business expo that is free to the public and offers consumers and other businesses the chance to shop, to get expo-only specials and coupons, to network and develop new business, to look for employees and jobs, and to win great prizes from more than 90 businesses and organizations who will have exhibits at the expo.

The Cumberland County Expo will be re-scheduled later in 2020, most likely in the fall. This event is postponed due to the developing health and business crisis facing all of us due the spread of the Coronavirus and the expected growing disruption of the education system, businesses and people's lives and for the protection of public health. Our thanks to everyone who has worked to make the expo a success to this time. We thank Rowan College of South Jersey, Holly City Development Corp., and Connecting Families & Communities for sponsoring the job fair. We thank the NJ Complete Count Commission and Cumberland County Board of Freeholders for sponsoring National Census Day celebration.

We also appreciate the support of the following businesses and organizations who have registered for the expo and hopefully will be a part of the re-scheduled event later this year.

Rowan College of South Jersey Announces Special Benefits for Chamber Members and Area Businesses

The Chamber's February lunch meeting at Terrigno's Fairfield Inn featured a trio of speakers from Rowan College of South Jersey, highlighting the college's variety of education and training services that can benefit area businesses.

Alice Smith, Bridgette Satchell, and Deborah Rabottino of Rowan College SJ provided the latest information about ways the college is expanding the services and opportunities for students, employees, employers, and the entire business community.

They talked about collaboration opportunities, grants, the Adult Center for Transition (ACT), the Employment First Program, classes now available at the Alms Center in Bridgeton and the Talent Acquisition and Development program. For more information, visit www.rcsj.edu.

Century Savings Bank Names David Hanrahan, President; Joe Rehm, Senior Vice President of Commercial Lending

In February, Century Savings Bank announced the hiring of David J. Hanrahan as President and Joseph F. Rehm as Senior Vice President of Commercial Lending. The position of President and Chief Executive Officer, currently held by David J. Hemple, has been separated into two positions. Mr. Hemple will continue in his role as Chief Executive Officer, while Mr. Hanrahan will serve as President.

"These additions to the leadership team align with the strategic plan for the ongoing success and expansion of the commercial lending division of the bank and to further demonstrate our dedication to continuous improvement throughout the organization," said Carl Kirstein, board chairman.

Chamber and County Go to Washington

The Bridgeton Area Chamber of Commerce, Cumberland County Government and public and private sector partners participated in NJ Chamber's Annual Washington event on Feb. 28.

Cumberland County is promoted at a dessert reception for hundreds of people from all over the state who attend. Door prizes were given, many of which were made in Cumberland County or donated by local businesses.

Representatives from Bridgeton Area Chamber, the County, and sponsors met earlier in the day with Congressman Jeff Van Drew and staff members of Senator Cory Booker.

Gordmans Opens in Upper Deerfield

Upper Deerfield, County, and Chamber officials and the public celebrated the opening of Gordmans at Carlls Corner Shopping Center recently, participating in the ribbon cutting ceremony. The store replaces the Peebles store in the shopping center. Mayor Jim Crilley of Upper Deerfield, Karen Hepner of the Chamber Board and Tony Stanzone, Chamber Executive Director welcomed the new store to the area. Renee Grillo, Store Manager, thanked everyone for joining in the opening ceremonies. She said "Gordmans is a retail store that sells name brands for a very low prices. Our new store here is one of 700 Gordmans stores in the United States where the customer can shop and also receive their Amazon packages," she added. Gordmans takes pride in giving back to the community and has contributed 1 million dollars to the public-school systems. They announced a donation of $1,000 to Cumberland Regional High School. Shop Gordmans for all of your household and retail needs. See www.Gordmans.com.

From the Chamber Chairperson

"We are beginning to see interruption of the normal course of business and community life due to the growing Coronavirus threat. This threat to public health will cause serious issues for us at the Chamber, to our business partners and to everyone in the community." - Carol Musso

TRANSITION OF LEADERSHIP STRONGER COMMITTEES NEW BOARD MEMBERS

I thank Bill Whelan of Ocean First Bank and Tony Stanzone, Chamber Executive Director for their help and support as my term as Chairperson of the Chamber of Commerce began in January. They along with all the officers and board have made the transition from Bill's two years of outstanding chamber leadership seamless and helped pave the way for growth and success in 2020. My thanks to so many from our Board and our Membership who have stepped forward to volunteer to lead and serve on committees and to put their time and talent to work to make the Chamber stronger and to serve our members and the community even better in 2020.

The Chamber Board of Directors is changing as term limits become effective this year and in future years. It is time for us to reach out to new business leaders to get them involved with leading the Chamber into the future. That process is off to a good start as we thank and welcome the following new board members in 2020: Minerva Alvarado, SERVPRO of Cape May & Cumberland Counties, Jon Cummings, Revive South Jersey, Christy DiLeonardo, Cumberland County Workforce Development, Curtis Edwards of CompleteCare Health Network, Carolyn Heckman, Adam Freitag, Freitag Funeral Home, and Kevin Maloney, City of Bridgeton.

NEW IDEAS FOR 2020

Our plans for this year include conducting a campaign to welcome new members to the Chamber, including reaching out to the downtown business community, updating our strategic planning, strengthening existing special events like our Golf Tournament, Best of West & South Cumberland, Cumberland County Expo and Salute to Business & Industry, networking opportunities and educational options, and adding new events like A Taste of Downtown Bridgeton, Brew at the Zoo & Wine, Too, and other new benefits for our members.

THE CORONAVIRUS THREAT

At this time, as I am writing this message, we are beginning to face the interruption of meetings, events and the normal course of business and community life due to the growing Coronavirus threat to our nation and the world. We know that this threat to public health will cause serious issues for us at the Chamber, to our business partners and to everyone in the community.

We will do our part by postponing meetings and events and to conduct some business via telephone and internet, providing information from health and government officials and any other ways we can be of service to our members and the community.

We urge everyone to listen to the guidelines and mandates of local, state and federal health authorities and to use common sense during this crisis. Together, we can help limit the severity of the crisis and watch out for the most vulnerable among us.
