

Discover Downtown Bridgeton

And a New Spirit of Cooperation and Teamwork

With spring beginning, a new spirit of cooperation and excitement is in the air as the Bridgeton Main Street Association (Main Street), in cooperation with project partners Bridgeton Area Chamber of Commerce (The Chamber), City of Bridgeton, Cumberland County Board of Commissioners, Latin American Economic Development Assoc. (LAEDA), and Revive South Jersey / Unidos Para La Familia, introduces a new Historic Bridgeton Merchants Guide.

Tony Stanzione, Executive Director of The Chamber acknowledged the support of partners and sponsors. "This project, the first by a team of organizations led by Main Street, businesses, and volunteers, called the Bridgeton Business Cooperative, is an example of what can be done when people and organizations who care about the community, work together," Stanzione said.

The guide contains 82 business listings, showcasing the diversity of products, services, events, business types, business owners, and culture found downtown. It is available online at www.downtownbridgeton.com/brochure.

Descubra el centro de Bridgeton y un nuevo espíritu de cooperación y trabajo en equipo

Thank you to Joemy Nunez, Chamber Board Member, for assistance with this article.

Con el comienzo de la primavera, un nuevo espíritu de cooperación y emoción está en el aire a medida que la Asociación de La Calle Principal de Bridgeton (Main Street), en cooperación con los socios del proyecto, la Cámara de Comercio del Área de Bridgeton (La Cámara), la Ciudad de Bridgeton, la Junta de Comisionados del Condado de Cumberland, la Asociación de Desarrollo Económico de América Latina (LAEDA) y Revive South Jersey / Unidos Para La Familia, presenta una nueva Guía histórica de comerciantes de Bridgeton.

Tony Stanzione, Director Ejecutivo de La Cámara, agradeció el apoyo de socios y patrocinadores. "Este proyecto, el primero de un equipo de organizaciones lideradas por Main Street, empresas y voluntarios, llamado Bridgeton Business Cooperative, es un ejemplo de lo que se puede hacer cuando las personas y las organizaciones que se preocupan por la comunidad, trabajan juntas", dijo Stanzione.

La guía contiene 82 listados de negocios, que muestran la diversidad de productos, servicios, eventos, tipos de negocios, propietarios de negocios y cultura que se encuentran en el centro de la ciudad. Está disponible en línea en www.downtownbridgeton.com/brochure.

Help to Build a Stronger Workforce

Patricia Mooneyham, Assistant Director, Business Development Career and Technical Education Division at Rowan College of South Jersey (RCSJ), and Christy DiLeonardo, Business Services Division Director of Cumberland County Department of Workforce Development (County Workforce Development), two experienced experts in workforce development led the presentation at the Chamber's Jan. 25 networking and education meeting.

The meeting was held in person at our Chamber Member, The Green Olive Restaurant in Hopewell and via Zoom. The meeting sponsor was Charles Schwab Vineland-Millville. Don Daigle spoke about the company and his independent office that serves the county. He explained, "we help make it easy for you to be an informed investor at Schwab. The world of investing is nuanced, so with the support of the experts at Charles Schwab, we provide information, easy-to-search articles on everything from today's market and tomorrow's forecasts to investing and tax strategies to help you meet your financial goals." For more information visit www.schwab.com/vineland-millville.

Patricia Mooneyham talked about the many valuable workforce development and training services RCSJ provides in partnership with others including Christy DiLeonardo's County Workforce Development Services, NJ Department of Labor, NJ Business and Industry Association Business Solutions Team.

Services include building top, middle and first-line management skills in technical areas, human relations, and conceptual. "We provide assessments to see what areas need strengthening in your business, and then design training sessions to meet those needs," Mooneyham explained. The core assessments include behavioral, motivational, thinking, emo-

RCSJ and County Workforce Department work together to help employers take advantage of a wide range of grant funded training and recruiting services. RCSJ also provided affordable management training programs. For more information visit career training at www.rcsj.edu.

Christy DiLeonardo urged businesses to contact her and the team at the County Workforce Development to find out more about the services that they can provide. "We are here to assist with recruiting, retaining, and strengthening your most important asset, your employees," she commented.

DiLeonardo highlighted the On the Job Training (OJT) grant program where employers who hire for full-time positions that pay $12 per hour - County, $13 per hour—State, or more are reimbursed 50% of the salary (capped at $6000-County & $10,000-state) for agreeing to provide training for a period of up to 26 weeks to an unemployed jobseeker or a public assistance recipient. Employers who hire individuals receiving public assistance may also be eligible for no-cost, six-month, $25,000 federal bonds. She added that the program is a cost-effective way to fill your positions with job-ready, prescreened candidates. Kay Delp, propietaria de Eastern Sky Co-Op en el edificio Hopeloft en Commerce Street, recuerda haber visitado Mullica Hill y ver el folleto de marketing que promocionaba el pueblo como destino comercial y turístico y decía: "¿por qué Bridgeton no puede ser un destino también?" Ella promocionó la idea a los asociados de Bridgeton Main Street Association y a otros.

"Con datos limitados para empezar, y obstáculos lingüísticos que superar, Gil Walter y yo, junto con equipos de otros voluntarios, salimos a las calles para recopilar información de las empresas", declaró Delp. Agregó: "aunque el proceso fue tedioso a veces, también fue gratificante conocer a más dueños de negocios, y la mercancía y los servicios que ofrecen, aquí en nuestra propia ciudad".

La financiación de la subvención obtenida por Main Street y las contribuciones de los socios y patrocinadores permitieron que la guía se produjera sin costo para las empresas enumeradas en la primera edición.

Gracias a muchas horas y talentos de voluntariado, incluida la recopilación de datos, la edición y la doble verificación de listados, la obtención de fotos y gráficos, se han impreso diez mil copias a un costo asequible y la distribución ha comenzado. Voluntarios de Main Street y el Comité de Negocios Hispánicos de la Cámara distribuirán puestos de folletos con códigos QR a las empresas y organizaciones que aparecen en el folleto, en edificios públicos y otros lugares donde los residentes y visitantes pueden recogerlo.

Delp agradeció al equipo, incluido Gil Walter, quien contribuyó con fotos, Debbi Boykin Greenberg, Timothy Zoyac, Sandra Olbrich, Rosalinda García, María Romain Soto, Jesus Martinez, owner of Plaza Bridgeton Celebration Hall, y Omarey Williams. También agradeció a la Asociación de Negocios de Mullica Hill por su ayuda y orientación.

Sandra Olbrich, presidenta de Main Street, expresó su agradecimiento: "Después de muchos meses de arduo trabajo y perseverancia, se ha hecho realidad este folleto. Muchas gracias a la presidenta del proyecto, Kay Delp, con la asistencia de Gil Walter y Tim Zoyac, junto con muchos otros de las diversas organizaciones y miembros de la comunidad. Ahora hagamos nuestra parte. Visite nuestro centro de la ciudad, use el folleto, descargue nuestra aplicación, compre y disfrute de una comida en nuestra GRAN CIUDAD DE BRIDGETON.

Carol Musso, Presidenta de The Chamber, agradeció a Main Street por su liderazgo para este proyecto, y agradeció a todos los socios y patrocinadores por su apoyo. "Nos complace apoyar este proyecto, y la Cooperativa de Negocios de Bridgeton, mientras trabajamos juntos para instar a nuestros residentes y visitantes de otras áreas a descubrir todo lo que el centro de Bridgeton y el área de Bridgeton tienen para ofrecer", declaró Musso.

Más listados de negocios del centro de la ciudad son bienvenidos para futuras ediciones e inclusión en la versión en línea de la guía. Si desea ser agregado a la guía, proporcione información sobre su negocio o evento como el incluido en la guía por correo electrónico a Main Street en bridgetonmainstreet@gmail.com. Las presentaciones serán revisadas y un representante de Main Street se comunicará con usted.

Kay Delp, owner of Eastern Sky Co-Op in the Hopeloft building on Commerce Street, recalls visiting Mullica Hill and seeing the marketing brochure promoting the village as a shopping and tourist destination and saying, "why can't Bridgeton be a destination, too." She touted the idea to the Bridgeton Main Street Association and to others.

"With limited data to start with, and language hurdles to overcome, Gil Walter and I, along with teams of other volunteers, hit the streets to gather information from businesses," stated Delp. She added, "though the process was tedious at times, it was also rewarding getting to know more business owners, and the merchandise and services they offer, right here in our own city."

Grant funding obtained by Main Street and contributions by partners and sponsors allowed the guide to be produced without cost to the businesses listed in the first edition.

Thanks to many volunteer hours and talents including data gathering, layout and design, editing and double-checking listings, obtaining photos and graphics, ten thousand copies have been printed at an affordable cost, and distribution has begun. Volunteers from Main Street and The Chamber's Hispanic Business Committee led by Jon Cummings and Minerva Alvarado will distribute brochure stands with QR codes on them to the businesses and organizations featured in the brochure, at public buildings, and other places where residents and visitors can pick it up.

Delp thanked the team including Gil Walter who contributed photos, Debbi Boykin Greenberg, Timothy Zoyac, Sandra Olbrich, Rosalinda Garcia, Maria Romain Soto, Jesus Martinez, owner of Plaza Bridgeton Celebration Hall, and Omarey Williams. She also thanked the Mullica Hill Business Association for their help and guidance.

Sandra Olbrich, President of Main Street, expressed her appreciation saying, "After many months of hard work and perseverance has gone into making this brochure a reality. Many thanks goes to the project chairperson Kay Delp with the assistance of Gil Walter and Tim Zoyac along with many others from the various organizations and community members. Now let's do our part. Visit our downtown, use the brochure, download our app, shop and enjoy a meal in our GREAT CITY OF BRIDGETON!"

Carol Musso, Chairwoman of The Chamber, thanked Main Street for its leadership for this project, and thanked all the partners and sponsors for their support. "We are pleased to support this project, and the Bridgeton Business Cooperative, as we work together to urge our residents, and visitors from other areas to discover all downtown Bridgeton and the Bridgeton area has to offer," Musso stated.

More listings of downtown businesses are welcome for future editions and inclusion in the online version of the guide. If you would like to be added to the guide, please provide information about your business or event like that included in the guide by email to Main Street at bridgetonmainstreet@gmail.com. Submissions will be reviewed and a Main Street representative will contact you.

Spotlight on Women in Business

Minerva Alvarado, the Chamber's Corp. Secretary and Chairwoman of the Chamber Education and Programs Committee, kicked off the February 15 meeting at Chamber Member, Terrigno's Fairfield Inn. She opened by saying, "today, we will hear from two dynamic and successful women — Randi Galan and Angela Morrison — who have not only created successful businesses, but also help support and pave the way for other women to become entrepreneurs."

Randi Galan talks about her business journey and helping others along the way.

The meeting was sponsored by Randi Galan State Farm Insurance Agency. Randi talked about her agency and how they strive to provide excellent service to their clients and interested prospective clients. For more information, please contact Randi and her team at www.RandiGalan.com.

Randi Galan talked about how she made the decision to open her own business when her career was at a crossroad. "I decided to open my own State Farm agency and I have developed a good balance between career, family, and community. "I think about how we can help others along the way and get so much satisfaction from doing that. It's great to grow your business, but it's great to help others along the way."

Angela Morrison comments on the service mindset of her team and her desire to be a helper.

Angela Morrison, owner of Angie's at your Service Virtual Assistance talked about her journey moving from a dedicated, hard-working employee with lots of ideas

County Broadband Project www.CountyBroadband.info

To best serve the residents, farms, businesses, schools, and all organizations in Cumberland County, the Cumberland County Board of Commissioners has launched www.countybroadband.info. The new website allows you to conduct a free speed test and have that data mapped automatically. The mapped data will be utilized when building the fiber infrastructure, allowing service providers such as Comcast/Xfinity and Verizon to leverage this and complete the service. Approximately $5 million in funding has been identified in American Rescue Plan ("ARP") grants for the broadband project. This funding will go to infrastructure construction, also known as the "middle mile" of service. Service providers will connect from this infrastructure to the home or business, also known as the "last mile". The goal is to extend reliable, high-speed internet service all across the county.

As we leave winter behind, looking ahead to the spring and summer, there is a spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation blooming at the Chamber and in our community. The Chamber’s support of the Bridgeton merchants guide and working with other partners in the project, is an example of the power of working together.

At the Chamber as we return to in person meetings, we will offer some online meetings for our members and the public so more business people can participate at different times of the day.

As COVID-19 cases decline, we remember those who suffered illness and those we lost in the pandemic. We will always be grateful to all who worked hard to keep our community safe and healthy.
